DERPORMANCES OF THE CELEBRATED CANADIAN ice beat built by the celebrated Major Wm. Dawson, hay, et New York city.—On Saturday last the Major, together with the stockholders and a few select friends, proceeded with their celebrated lee boat down to the famous Cheasquaick creek, N.J., via Amboy, on a trial trip, a la steamer. Having arrived at their destination, the party enjoyed themselves in a manner such as none but New Yorkers know how to do, at the hospitable mannion of Mr. Charles Applegate, Seq., who, by the way, is considered a host within himself, to say nothing of his truly beautiful and accomplished sisters. The above manson is situated at the mouth of Chesquaick creek, where the lowers of good fishing, gunning, and other sport incidental to be see shore, can find at all times good boats, fishing tackle, Ac., on the most accommodating terms imaginable. While the inner man very bountifully with spirits, necessary to some men on such occasions—consented to share the honor of a triumph, or the mortification of a defeat, with the gallar t Major, and this time, everything being in apple-pie order, the word was given to cast off, and let her go; and go she did, at the rate of sixty, and at one time eighty miles an hour. She was put before the wind, on the wind, and she also beat against the wind, the entire length of the creek, which is said to be aix miles long. The above performance was accomplished in the presence of, and to the entire sainfaction of, the whole party, including a number of Jersymen who had assembled to wire that stock went up with a parfect rush, to the no small chagrin of Mr. Jso. A.—, who was one of the irst linerested in the entire price, but, through some cause or other, less all faith, and smally solid out stock and liste, at a great sacrince of couplain and good humor; so that he can scarcely matutan his former equilibrium since he was compelled to be an eye-witness to the above glorious result.
